CHEMICAL ARRIVES TOO LATE

On Saturday night about 12 o'clock one of the young daughters of Mr. Richard Manlove who lives on the Craven farm opposite Mr. Charles Deakyne on the road from Middletown to Odessa, was awakened from sleep by the smell of fire. She at once aroused the household whereupon they discovered that the house had caught fire, probably from a lamp in the cook's room where the blaze started in her absence in town. Mr. Manlove says the fire was quite out in the kitchen stove when he retired.

In some way the fire had gotten between the walls, and in spite of all efforts to put it out, the flames burned that whole fine old mansion, handsomely equipt inside with all modern conveniences, leaving nothing but the brick walls. The fire burned so very slowly that it was nearly 2 o'clock before the front part of the building burned. Meanwhile Mr. Manlove and family, assisted by our firemen and others, were able to remove all their furniture, clothing and other personal property even to 65 baskets of potatoes and a lot of canned goods, in the cellar.

About 10 minutes to 12 the town fire whistle blew loudly, and numbers of citizens were presently thronging the sidewalks, especially in the neighborhood of the Shallcross Garage where the two-wheeled Chemical Engine is kept. After a delay of 30 minutes the Chemical Engine was started for the fire, several firemen in an auto holding the rope and trailing the engine behind.

A large number of persons were attracted to the fire, ten or twelve autos besides the carriages being present. Some mean thief, one of those ghoul-like creatures that make the misfortunes of others occasion for plunder, stole the entire wardrobe of one of Mr. Manlove's sons after it had been rescued from the flames.

Mr. Manlove and family were offered a refuge in the hospitable residence of Mr Lea Penington. The House was fully insured and will be immediately rebuilt it is said.

The Transcript while regretting the calamitons event, is glad to know that Mr. Manlove has escaped with so small a loss and without any personal injuries to himself or family.

Hold-Up Attempted

As George W. and Clarence McCaulley were driving along the Folly woods road near New Castle Thursday night in their automobile, they were stopped by a man near Boxwood and informed that some one had been hurt. The stranger asked the men in the machine to get out and help him in caring for the injured person. As the automobile came to a standstill the first man and another, who stepped from the bushes along the side of the road, started toward the car. The motorists became suspicious, and, suspecting a hold-up, hurriedly drove from the scene.

Saturday, October 7th, on account of holiday our store will be closed till 6 P. M., then open till 11.30.

The regular October term of Superior Court and Court of General Sessions convened today, and judging from the large number of cases docketed for trial the session will last aboot two weeks. There are thirty-four civil cases set for trial and seventeen for argument, besides the large list of criminal cases which are expected to take up the first week of court.

Donation Day for the benefit of the Palmer Home, at Dover, will be held Wednesday, October 11th All persons wishing to make a donation of canned or fresh fruits, vegetables, money or anything you desire, should deliver the same to the home.

PAPER CLIMBS HIGHER

The threatened paper famine is getting in its work among the school children and the result is that while the price of pads will be about the amount of paper will be less.

The scratch tablet, along with all other things made out of paper, is suffering severly on account of the paper famine. Local dealers say that the cost of all their wares have advanced and some even declare that the big tablets will be very scarce. Others say that the trade must have penny and nickel tablets but that this season these old stand-bys will necessarily be reduced in size.

Penny pencils still will be on the market. For awhile the factories stopped making them, but now have resumed operations, and there is expected to be no shortage on penny pencils, althought some dealers may sell them unsharpened, it having been the distinction of the all ready for the small hand to wield it.

All other school supplies are costing more or less in being secured for the same amount of money than was formerly the case. Slares and slate pencils are tabooed in schools, and consequently there is not much demand for them.

THE THIRD TICKET

Without any pomp or ceremony the Progressive Republicans of Delaware met in Dover Wednesday of last week and selected the following state ticket to be voted for at the general election on November 7th.

Presidential electors, same as organization ticket; United States Senator, Dr. Hiram R. Burton, Lewes; Governor, John G. Townsend, organization; Congressman, Edward G. Bradford, Wilmington; Lieutenant-Governor, Jefferson Cooper, Cheswold; Attorney-General, David J. Reinhardt, Wilmington, organization; State Treasurer, William J Swain, organization; Auditor of Accounts, A. L. Hudson Jr., Smyrna, State Insurance Commissioner, George C. Hering.

The loyalty of all the named independent candidates cannot be questioned and the acceptance of these men by the Progressives, if such be the case, would in no way jeopardize their interests or the party's interests in the future The Kent County independents are jubilant over their action and feel that a rebuke from which they will not soon recover will be administered to the organization.

Milk Producers' Association

On Saturday last about one hundred farmers, those who are shipping milk to Wilmington met in the Irish American Hall, 608 French St., Wilmington, and formed an organization known as the Milk Producers' Association. The following officers were appointed: President, Chas. P. Dickey; Vice President, John F. O'Neal; Secretary, John Frazier; Treasurer, J. Atwood Weldin. A committee of six were appointed to draft by-laws and present them at the next meeting. The price of milk was set at five cents per quart for the month of October.

All farmers who are shipping milk to Wilmington are requested to attend the next meeting to be held on Saturday, September 30, at 1 o'clock, P M in the Irish American Hall, 608 French St., Wilmington. Those who are unable to attend and wish to enroll as members, please send their names to the president, Chas. P. Dickey, Stanton, Del.

Paper Market Critical

The paper situation is becoming a serious problem and it begins to look as though many of the papers will have to suspend publication unless the public gives full aid and assistance to those in the printing and publishing business. It is our desire to continue giving to our readers an eight-page paper, but in order to do so, every subscriber whose subscription is now due, will have to help us by paying at once, or we will be compelled to mark them off our list.

The Delaware Pilot and Sussex Journal, as well as many other papers, have reduced in size in order to meet the situation, while The Seaford Tribune makes the announcement through its columns this week, that it is compelled to cease publication, temporarily, because of the shortage of blank paper. Therefore, we most earnestly ask all patrons of this paper to give us their support.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN

Did booze ever do you any good?

Did booze ever get you a better job?

Did booze ever contribute anthing to the happiness of your family?

The above is the reading of an electric sign at the gate of the Illinois Steel Company's plant at Gary, Indiana, relates the Christian Advocate. The same company throughout its Joliet works has posted notices containing:

"For the promotion of safety and welfare, it is hoped that all employees will avoid the use of intoxicating liquors.

"Under the rules of the Joliet works any employee who uses intoxicating liquor while on duty will be discharged.

"In making promotions in any department of the plant, superintendents of departments and foremen will select for promotion only those who do not use intoxicating liquors."

More Praises For The Electric Iron

Perhaps it is a fortunate thing for Mr. Frank Pool that the ladies of Middletown have not yet received the ballot, for we fear some of them might feel bound, irrespective of their political views, to vote for his competitor for the State senate, Mr. Walter Leatherbury, out of gratitude for bringing to their notice that rarely delightful housekeeping convenience—the Westinghouse Electric Ironer.

After a month's use of it the ladies are more than pleased. And what is more, they have discovered still another good quality in it over the old style iron—it does not stick to starched clothing even tho over starched!

Perhaps a word of caution should be spoken not to allow it to overheat—for it is a famous heater, all right—but to pull out the plug, or better, shut off the currant at the wall switch, and then iron for 15 minutes or more without any electricity. No housekeeper who has never used this ironer, dreams how fine a thing it is, how it saves time strength, steps and labor at every turn.

Caught After Long Hunt

William Davis and Charles Hayward, negroes, were placed under bail Tuesday, in default of which they were sent to Georgetown jail. Davis, known as "Midnight Slim," was held in $1,000 on charge of taking from a railroad train a suit case belonging to Mrs. Anne E. Jackson, of Salisbury. Hayward was held in $500 as an accessory.

The negroes got on the train at Laurel and got off at Bridgeville. Mrs. Jackson missed her suit case and notified the railroad authorities. The two men were captured near Greenwood, after a hunt of twelve hours by Detectives Palmer, Minner and Burke.

VISITED WILMINGTON

On Saturday evening Mr. Frederick Brady took a number of ladies to Wilmington in his palatial Oakland automobile, Mr. and Mrs. Martin B. Burris and Miss Mary Hutchin attending the exhibition of paintings given by Messers Stanley M. Arthurs and Clifford W. Ashley in the Rose room of the Dupont Hotel, and Misses Anna Denny and Katherin Tuoy went to the Playhouse to see the "Music Master."

The party returned to Middletown about midnight, and learning of the fire at Mr. Manlove's, motored thither if haply they might be of some service.

Mr. Arthurs a few months ago placed on the wall of the Senate Chamber in the State House at Dover his superb mural painting commemorative of the "Departure from Dover Green of the First Delaware Regiment in the Revolutionary War" for which the artist received the very modest sum of $5000. In an exhibition of paintings held in Wilmington last Winter, Mr. Arthurs was awarded the $100 prize for the best "Illustration Canvas."

These two artists are displaying in this exhibition which lasts from October 1st to the 7th inclusive, 79 handsome paintings, many of which, no doubt, will be sold. Mr. Ashley is at his best in marine views. The collection should be visited by all who are in Wilmington between those dates, first, because those paintings viewed merely as works of art, are worthy to be seen by every lover of the beautiful, and secondly, because the artists are Delaware residents, and one of them, Mr. Arthurs, is a Blue Hen's Chick "native and to the manor born."

Saturday, October 7th, on account of holiday our store will be closed till 6 P. M., then open till 11.30.

MORE CASES OF PARALYSIS

No more health certificates will be issued for children 16 years of age or under to go out of the state into states infected with infantile paraylsis, unless the children are visiting and wish to go home, or unless they are going to remain away for a long period This is the latest announcement made by health authorities in Wilmington, regarding infantile paralysis. This means, it is pointed out, that the so-called "promiscuous visiting" in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York states will be stopped for children within quarantine age. The action is taken, it is declared, because it is thought infection of infantile paralysis may have been brought into the state by some people who have been getting permits to go out and then coming back again.

Three new cases of the disease were reported Friday—Henry Mroczka, 19 Stroud street, 2½ years; Edley Daremr, 18 months, of 522 Lincoln street; and a child on West Second street, name and age not given. According to the records of the Health Department, the Italian child on Lincoln street, had been ill for several days but Friday morning paralysis set in and the house was quarantined.

College Infirmary For Delaware

For the first time in the history of the institution Delaware College has an infirmary solely for the benefit of the students. The infirmary has been fitted up in what was formerly the home of Daniel Stoll, at the southeast corner of Delaware Avenue and Depot Road, the property now being owned by the college. The location is ideal for the purpose and the building which was erected by Mr. Stoll only three years ago for his home, was easily transformed into a modern infirmary.

The infimary was opened at the beginning of the college year last week with Miss A. M. Beck, formerly of Middletown, in charge. Miss Beck has had considerable experience in hospital work and is well fitted to take charge of the work.

To Republican Voters

I desire to return my hearty thanks to those Republican voters who, Sept. 23d supported me in my effort to obtain the nomination for Sheriff. In addition, I wish to say that I shall support, in every way possible, Mr. Theodore Francis, the successful aspirant for the place. It is my earnest wish that all my friends do likewise. I shall be a candidate for the nomination in 1918.

Sincerely

JOSHUA Z. CROSSLAND.

The price of flour has advanced 20 cents a barrel, the highest level since the Civil War. Standard Minnesota is selling for $9.00 a barrell, an increase of $3 over a year ago.

The cheaper grade of flour sold to the bakers' trade also wa advanced 10 and 15 cents a barrell. Grades which sold for $8.50 brought $8.65.

Announcement

I hereby announce that I have decided to discontinue housekeeping, and my household goods will be sold at private sale on an after September 25th, 1916.

OUR STATE LIBRARIES

Delaware in The Front Rank With Traveling Libraries

BOOK WAGONS VISIT FARMS

Almost no man, woman or child is working at a job about which he or she could not learn much of value from some book. The lawyer and the doctor have always found it necessary to read constantly in order to do their work well. The teacher and the minister have always found books and periodicals necessary. We of this generation are discovering that it is also true that every farmer, mechanic and housewife can do his or her work better by reading.

Delaware is in the front rank of states which aim to place books within the reach of all their inhabitants, by means of traveling libraries, book-wagons and parcel post service. These books and this equipment belong to the people of the state and it is the purpose of the Delaware Commission to see that no person in the state, whether he lives in the city, village or on a farm, is without the books which he needs, whether for infiration and help in his work, or for recreation in his leisure moments.

The traveling libraries are collections of books which are sent out from Dover in stout, hinged boxes, circulating free of charge. They are made up of from 35 to 50 of the best popular books both for grown-ups and children, in stories, history, travel, biography, science and literature. They are sent to schools, Sunday schools, granges or any group of people willing to be responsible for their safe return. Application for a traveling library should be addressed to the State Library Commission, Court House, Dover, Del.

In order to serve those who cannot conveniently use the traveling libraries, the Commission sends book-wagons to visit farms, thus carrying books directly to the doors of those living at a distance from others. These wagons are in charge of women who become greatly interested in fitting the books to the needs of the farmer or his child, and delightful personal relations are often established between the "book-wagon lady" and the farm-dwellers.

In New Castle County there are three book-wagon routes starting from Townsend. In Kent County there are six, three from Dover, one from Kenton and two from Felton. Sussex county has five routes, Delmar, Lowe's Cross Roads, Millsboro and Staytonville.

For further information apply to the State Library Commission, Court House, Dover, Del.

Books will also be sent by parcel post to any individual studying a special subject. Apply to the State Library Commission, Court House, Dover, Del.

Unconfirmed Report Militia's Return

There is a possibility that the Delaware troops may be sent home before long. Letters state that many rumors are in circulation through the camp relative to the return of the soldiers and that the Deming Board of Trade is arranging to give a farewell reception to the officers. October 1 is the date set for leaving.

No confirmation of these reports could be obtained from Adjutant-General I. Pusey Wickersham. He said he had heard nothing definite about the return of the troops, adding that many rumors were afloat, but that he did not believe the government intended moving any more troops from the border at this time. This was only surmise on his part, not official information, he explained.

Saturday, October 7th, on account of holiday our store will be closed till 6 P. M., then open till 11.30. Fogel & Burstan.

SURPLUS OF WOMEN

There are said to be 2,000,000 more women and girls in Great Britain than there are men—and German guns are still increasing the disparity. This surplus of women—or shortage of men, put it as you will—is bound to set some difficult social problems when the war is over. In those parts of the continent where primitive conditions prevail or where patriotism extends into daily life, there will be a tacitly licensed polygamy. Mrs. Grundy doubtless will prove too powerful to admit of such a state of affairs in Britain—though the percentage of illegitimate births in that island is sure to increase—and other solutions must be sought, says Chicago Journal. The most promising of these is assisted emigration of women to British colonies, where males are in a heavy majority. One undoubted good which will result from the present butchery is an improvement in the status of the child born out of wedlock. With the nations hungry for children to grow up as soldiers and producers in place of those lost in the trenches, the old injustice of punishing youngsters for the faults of their parents has become unpopular.

Bright farmers hold no longer to the theory that a cow is a cow. On the contrary, they stick to the principle that a good cow is an excellent investment and a poor cow is a waste, says Philadelphia Ledger. That sale at Coopersburg of 126 animals for $80,000 proves that the bright farmers have their pocketbooks in hand ready to pay for pure blood. The man who gave $3,000 for a cow knows that she is cheaper than another cow which would cost him $50. A cow is a living machine which converts hay, grain and fodder into milk, and the greater her capacity to perform this process of conversion the better cow she is. One of the best things our agricultural schools have taught is a knowledge of the superiority of first rate stock of every kind over inferior stock. It has come to a point where a knowing farmer can measure the quality of other farmers easily by the cows he keeps.

The great German physicist, Helmholtz, was the first to explain satisfactorily what keeps the sun hot. The sun is not burning; it is heated to the glowing point, like a piece of white hot iron. Helmholtz found that if we suppose the sun to be contracting by only 25 feet a year we would receive our present amount of heat. In other words, says Popular Science Monthly, heat is being literally squeezed out of the sun. Professor Newcomb estimated that when the squeezing process has continued for about 7,000,000 years the sun will be one-half its present size.

New Mexico is suffering from an epidemic of chlorosis. Rose bushes and trees are dying all over the state from the disease. There is no known cure for it and it is spreading rapidly. The natural green color of the plants is changed to a sickly green or even to nearly white. It is most common in the irrigated sections of the West and is now affecting shrubbery in El Paso. Neither the cause nor the cure is known, but in the older trees treatment with green vitriol gives relief.

An authority says the real history of the great war will not be written until 50 years have passed. However, the schoolchildren won't have to wait that long before being assigned to the task of learning something about the conflict.

It is declared that manufacturers of leather substitutes are turning out one that is superior to leather as material for soles. No wonder there are leather men trying to keep prices of their commodity from soaring too high.

"The world owes a monument to the man who invented the tin can," says the Baltimore American. And a still higher one to the fellow who invented the can opener.

The theory that sour milk promotes longevity has been shattered. Most of the centenarians seem to reach old age without making any particular effort.

We must go to the chigger to be attacked, but the fleet-winged, tune-humming mosquito comes to us with diabolical aggressiveness.

Many a girl has been surprised to find out that her young man doesn't make love like the hero in her favorite novel.

A submarine transatlantic line will naturally be free from the annoyance of stowaways.

Soon a large portion of the American people will quit thinking and talk politics.

The efficiency of a modern army depends a great deal on the pedicure.

Improvement on "Skis."

An increase of several yards in the jump of ski-runners is a rather surprising result of the process of metallizing objects by means of a spray. In Switzerland, a coating of aluminum of the thickness of thin cardboard is being applied to the ski-blades by this method, and this not only adds greatly to the durability of the bearing surface but it also very materially lessens friction, and tends further to prevent caking of snow on the blades. It is the diminished friction that lengthens the jump.

Devise Key-Making Machine.

A key-making machine that will duplicate accurately a Yale, Corbin, or similar key, in one minute, has been introduced. All that is necessary is a blank and the key is duplicated. The key is placed in one clamp, the blank in another. The guide disk touches the key, the wheel the corresponding part of the blank, as it is revolved. A hand lever is moved from left to right, until the wheel stops grinding. The machine is so simple anyone can run it.

In San Juan.

One of the most striking things about San Juan is its cleanliness. Everything is as spick and span as the most exacting housewife could desire. Even the fruit venders have little buckets tied under their carts into which they insist discarded skins be thrown. The streets are all neatly cobbled or asphalted. The bright sunlight of the Porto Rican sky bathes everything in rays of glistening white.

Cats Fond of Needles.

Cats seem to have a habit of swallowing needles. When a cat is brought to a veterinary hospital suffering with a cough, the doctor always looks for a needle. In one instance Doctor Childs of New York operated on a cat to remove what he thought was an ordinary needle. He found a hatpin nine inches long. But the cat's life was saved.

Keeping Premises Clear of Ants.

The bureau of entomology says that, if the housewife would get rid of the ants that bother her, the first and most important thing for her to do is to keep all her food supplies, especially sugar and other sweets, in lid-tight metal containers. Anything edible that the children may scatter about should be promptly cleaned up.

Didn't Like Hirsute Adornment.

One Sunday Helen's father and mother took her to church, sitting just behind a man who had red whiskers. Helen would not look up, but kept hiding her face, and when her mother insisted on knowing what was the matter said: "I'm afraid of the man wif feavers on his face."

First to Salute American Flag.

Governor de Graeff, of the colony of the old Dutch republic at St. Eustatius, W. I., was the first official of a foreign nation to salute the American flag. This event occurred on November 16, when a Yankee ship entered the harbor of St. Eustatius.

Joy Out of Life.

The rapid-fire statistician who found that the jitney contained six cents' worth of metal is contradicted by official authority which fixes the value of the nickel at three cents. Somebody is always taking the joy out of life.—Washington Herald.

If One, Why Not the Other?

Little Mabel had just recovered from an attack of the chicken pox. "Well," she informed her mother, "I'm glad that is over. Now what do I have next, turkey pox or duck pox?"

They Help.

Men with a knack of getting rich are always able to hire plenty of financial experts at comparatively low salaries to help with the details.

Optimistic Thought.

He whom the grandeur of office elevates over others will soon find that the first hour of his new dignity is the last of his independence.

Nothing Very Serious.

Mrs. Casey—"Och, Pat, whin the docther told yez ye had something wid a Latin name to it a yar-rd long, it didn't scare yez?" Casey—"Faith it did. Norah, darlint. But whin he only charged me a dollar, Oi knew it didn't amount to much."

Good Breeding Necessary.

The most familiar and intimate habitues, connections, friendships, require a degree of good breeding both to preserve and cement them.—Lord Chesterfield.

Giant Rainbow Trout.

Rainbow trout grow to such a large size in Australia, especially in New South Wales, that it is illegal to take a fish under ten inches in length.

Tone Down Tan Shoes.

A coating of thick castor oil applied with a soft flannel cloth to tan shoes whose color is too vivid will tone them down considerably.

Woman's Complaint.

When a woman wishes to compliment another woman she says, "Yes, she is attractive from a man's point of view."—Topeka Capital.

Simplicity.

Simplicity in character, in manners, in style; in all things, the supreme excellence is simplicity.—Henry W. Longfellow.

Sawed-Off Sermon.

It may be all right for a woman to marry in haste and repent at leisure—but the man in the case seldom has any leisure.

EARLY SCRIPTURES ALL LOST

Oldest Known Manuscripts Show the Bible as It Existed Soon After Apostolic Days.

The oldest Bible manuscripts now in existence date from about 300 to 450 A. D., and show us the Bible as it existed soon after the apostolic days. All the earlier manuscripts were either lost or destroyed in the terrible persecutions which were directed not only against the Christians but against their treasured sacred writings, their enemies thus hoping to stamp out even the slightest traces of Christianity. The three oldest manuscripts now in existence are known as the Sinaitic, the Alexandrian and the Vatican manuscripts, the Christian Herald says. The Sinaitic was found by the eminent Bible scholar, Tischendorf, in a convent on Mount Sinai in 1844. It contains the Septuagint, other parts of the Old Testament, the New Testament complete, and some of the apocryphal books. The writing, after a lapse of more than fifteen hundred years, is still clear and legible. The Alexandrian manuscript, which came to light in 1628, is not quite so ancient as the Sinaitic. It has the Old Testament complete, except that ten leaves are missing, and the New Testament lacks nearly thirty leaves. It is in the British museum. The Vatican manuscript—the most ancient of all—is a great treasure, consisting of about seven hundred leaves of vellum bound in book form. Part of Genesis is missing, and also a number of the psalms. The New Testament is complete up to Hebrews, ninth chapter. Other early Bible manuscripts of great value, but inferior to the three mentioned are the Codex Ephraem and the Codex Bezae, besides which there is a long list of later manuscripts.

SAFE, BUT NOT COMFORTABLE

Rabbit Must Have Passed Some Uneasy Moments in Its Peculiar Place of Refuge.

Two hunters were in the woods one day with their rabbit dog, named "Skip." They were tramping along when "Skip" suddenly caught sight of a rabbit and gave chase. He ran the victim on to posted land near a farmhouse. The owner of the dog, hearing him make unusual noises, determined to see what was the matter.

Leaving his gun with his companion, he climbed over the fence and looked for "Skip." He beheld what he thought was a dog suddenly gone mad. "Skip" was whining, yelping, growling and biting at a large milkcan. Dog and can rolled over and over, "Skip" in apparent frenzy, biting and scratching it with his paws. Then he would endeavor to hurl himself inside without regard for bumped or bruised legs.

Upon making an investigation, the hunter found that the unfortunate cottontail, in seeking shelter, had rushed into the milkcan, where, although the dog could not get at him, he must certainly have had alarming doubts concerning his safety.—Youth's Companion.

Afraid of Their Own Reflection.

An interesting bit of animal psychology is revealed in a story that comes from Elkins, W. Va., of how a baby's life was saved by the fear of wild hogs for their own likeness reflected from a mirror.

Wild hogs that exist in the mountains of Randolph county came down into the foothills and charged into the home of Sanford Phillips, upsetting furniture and attacking Phillips' two-year-old son.

The animals had torn nearly all the clothing from the child when he ran into a corner where a big mirror hung. The hogs followed, but soon stopped when they beheld their likenesses in the big glass. Only a second did they hesitate, however, then turned, plunging from the house back up the mountain side. The child was only slightly injured.—Youth's Companion.

Could Not Be Disturbed.

Although Jed Hoover was the laziest man in town, he always had strength to hold a book or a magazine in his hand. It was only in emergencies that the neighbors called upon him for help. One hot day in July, when the clouds threatened rain, a farmer hurried to his shack and asked him to "rake after" the last load of hay.

Jed hesitated a minute, and then his eye fell upon a pile of old magazines that were stacked in a corner of the sagging piazza.

"Well, now, I'd like to help out," was the reply, "but I'll have to refuse ye this time. I'm a little behind with my reading."—Youth's Companion.

Excuse for Breaking Silence Rule.

A new story is being told about a certain London club, famed internationally for both its exclusiveness and its stillness.

In one of the rooms a rule of silence is stringently enforced, any necessary order to a waiter having to be given in a whisper. The other day occupants of the room were startled to see a member press a bell button with evident annoyance, and when the waiter appeared to hear him exclaim, pointing to a neighbor in a chair:

"Waiter, remove that member."

The man in the chair had been dead three days.

Hardly the Thing.

"Why did she break the engagement?"

"Seemed he mailed her a love letter in one of those envelopes with a glass front."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

INCURABLE DEFECT IN BRAIN

Color-Blindness Cannot Be Overcome, Though Word-Blindness May Be Alleviated.

Two defects in regard to sight—word-blindness and color-blindness—are described by an English writer. He points out that they are not defects of the eyes at all, but are really mental defects, and, curiously enough, are found very often in clever men, the discoverer of the defect—Dalton, the great scientist—being himself color-blind.

Color-blindness occurs in about three to four per cent of males and in a smaller number of females. It is frequently hereditary, but, strangely enough, though the males suffer from the defect, the females carry it on.

Color-blindness is a defect in the registering apparatus in the brain and is incurable. It is of importance to recognize the defect early, and to turn the attention of the sufferer to work in which this defect will not be a handicap. Such children should learn early that there is no work for them on the railway.

Word-blindness is a much more serious defect, and may be the cause of the difficulty some children find in learning to read. They see correctly. Tested with figures or pictures, they may pass the standard, but the letters of the alphabet, when strung together to form words, convey no meaning to them. The effect is due to a want of association of the brain centers. The defect is usually mistaken at first to indicate defective eyesight, but this is not so. It is noteworthy that these same children may show considerable ease in reading figures, even money sums. To teach these children to read, words must not be taken letter by letter, but as a whole. the word "cat" must be taken not as "c-a-t," equals cat, but the whole thing must be the sign for cat. The method is known as the "look and say" plan, and by its aid it is possible to teach the child to read.

WORK ON CAMPAIGN BANNERS

Twelve Men Employed in Production of One of These Wonderful Objects of "Art."

The services of 12 men are required to produce one of the big campaign banners.

Two men prepare the strips on which the lettering is done. Two more look after the lettering of these strips, the painting of the names of clubs or associations ordering the banners, the captions for the portraits and the offices for which the nominees are to contend.

Two men work on the centerpieces, generally consisting of an eagle and a shield. One man devotes himself to the special portraits, and the others assemble the various parts, sew the strips together, and give the finishing touches to the banner.

The "portrait man" scorns to do any other work than the main portrait. The rest he calls "filling in." By working on the same faces day after day this artist becomes so skillful that he can paint the portrait of a candidate (to use the words of one painter) "in the dark" and do it as true to life as the standard of the campaign banner industry requires.

Price of Roses.

A small flower shop in the humbler quarters of a Southern city. A young hospital nurse, still in training, is asking the price of roses, her rounded cheek, itself a rose, half turned to the open door.

The daily tasks of the hospital training school are exhausting. But she has managed to embroider a workbag—a wedding present wrought by her own hands—and she seeks to adorn the package with a few buds.

To the question she puts there is no reply; only a thoughtful look.

Such voice as is "an excellent thing in woman" repeats it. Then the woman of the shop, quietly:

"I heard you the first time, dear, and I've heard your voice before. You were good, so good, to my Alice at the hospital. How she suffered! And how patient to the end!"

Then, turning to the boy, she bids him give the lady all the flowers she may need. And she herself pins a white rose on the young nurse's bosom.—New York Independent.

Earthquake Caused Changes.

An effect of the Nevada earthquake of the last quarter of 1915 has been an increase to three or four times the former amount in the flow of streams and springs throughout the northern part of the state. Observers have pronounced this earthquake more violent than the one that caused such disaster in San Francisco in 1906, but in the thinly settled region the damage was small. Beginning October 2, there were more than 500 shocks within three months. The most notable mark of the disturbance has been left on the east side of Pleasant valley, where the alluvial detritus at the base of the Sonoma range has settled away for a vertical height of 5 to 12 feet and a horizontal width of 8 feet over a distance of nearly 25 miles.

Money No Object.

The judge was passing sentence on a very defiant-looking culprit.

"This is a sad case," his honor said. "You, who remained honest until you were forty, have tarnished your name and dishonored your family, all for the sake of three miserable dollars."

"Please be fair," said the prisoner. "Was it my fault there were so few?"

GETTING A START

By Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

HE CLOSED THE DOOR.

John was an iceman. For years he had driven his wagon along the city boulevards and through the back alleys. He was a strong, husky fellow, popular with the boss and with his customers. He was accommodating, and his ringing "Good morning" was always welcome. He was ambitious, but didn't know it; was satisfied because over his horizon little had arisen save a horse and an ice cart.

Among his customers was a multimillionaire, the president of a bank and the owner of the largest factory in the city. The basement door was located under his library. Every morning this man of business sat before the open window, or before the glowing grate, and read his morning paper. Old as he was, busy as he always had been, his eye had not lost its power of penetration or his ear its acuteness. He saw and he heard more than most men.

The grocery boys, the market men, and others delivered their goods below his window, and every one, save the iceman, slammed the door when he went out; but John always closed it softly.

One day, as John was leaving, the millionaire poked his head out of the window and exclaimed: "Say, you man, why don't you slam the doors like the other fellows?"

John was confused for a moment, then he pulled himself together and replied:

"What's the use of being a nuisance when you don't have to be?"

"Got a moment to spare?" asked the millionaire.

"Sure," replied John.

"Come upstairs."

John, in heavy boots and overalls, with hat in hand, stood at the library door.

"Sit down, my man," said the millionaire.

John perched himself on the arm of a chair.

"Get into that chair, so as to be comfortable."

John slid into the seat.

"Here, have a cigar," and the business man pushed a box toward him.

The iceman held the cigar in his fingers, not daring to light it.

"Light up, sir. While you're smoking, I have something to say to you. Like your job?"

"Why, yes, sir," replied John in surprise.

"Ever thought of getting something better?"

"Guess I ain't fit for anything else."

"I differ with you," said the millionaire emphatically. "You are the only gentleman who delivers goods at my house; the only one who is considerate, who thinks while he works. I won't ask who you are or what you are. I want a doorkeeper at my factory office. The job is yours."

In a week John was at his post. In a year he was promoted. Today he isn't a partner, and he isn't superintendent of the factory, but he is drawing two thousand a year, and is the most popular man on the premises.

Shutting the door softly isn't much, is it? But it is one of those little things, which people don't have to do, that mark the man who does them.

In the arithmetic of life the decimals as well as the big figures count.

Don't take chances with little things. They are often more important than those which seem to loom larger on the horizon.

Why Glass Doesn't Stop Light.

Why doesn't the closed window shut out light just as much as it shuts out sound? Both light and sound travel through the air and their waves come in contact with the glass. The light, after it has gone through the window, seems just as strong or stronger, while the sound seems ever so much weaker. Why is it? many of us have wondered.

The reason is that light is not a wave of air, while sound is. Light is a wave in the ether which is in the glass as well as in the air, so that light in passing through glass still has its natural path of ether.

But when sound waves strike the window glass they must put the glass into vibration, and the glass in turn must make the air inside vibrate. All this lessens the strength of the sound waves and they reach our ears capable of producing a less startling effect than the light waves which reach our eyes.

Midnight Causes Ill Health.

Not too much sunlight, but too much midnight is the real nerve destroying factor at most pleasure resorts.

Dancing, highballs, bridge, pinochle, poker, swimming, are the practices that are oftenest overdone. The poor office slave who exposes his puttylike body to strong sun and retires to his hotel cot tired, blistered and homesick, probably hasn't done his nerves a hundredth part of the harm that he might have been able to buy in less violent follies of midsummer madness.

Sunlight, consumed in large quantities, is the least evil in this country, winter or summer.—Boston Journal.

Character Must Be Made.

You cannot dream yourself into a character; you must hammer and forge yourself one.—Froude.

Peculiar Idea Some Have.

Some men's idea of a good time is a time in which they haven't time to be good.

Easy Boss.

Notice in a factory: "No loafers allowed except employees."

LITTLE THINGS THAT COUNT

Possible Explanation of Why Some Business Enterprises Fail, While Others Succeed.

"It is an axiom that it is the little things that count, and I never had a better illustration of such logic than an incident in a cigar store the other day," said an observing man.

"I wanted to buy a box of cigars, but it was a busy time of day. The store was crowded and there weren't enough clerks to handle the rush. Customers were impatient and complaining, but that did not help matters a bit, for the clerks were hustling their best.

"When my turn came I asked for a box of cigars of a certain brand. The clerk got them and started to wrap them up. As I did not care to buy goods without looking them over, I asked him to open the box. He did, but lost the small brass tack that held down the cover, so when he closed the box he had to look for another tack.

"Finally he took a tack out of another full box of cigars, but bent it so that it could not be used. Then he looked for an empty box with a tack left in it, but there weren't any. Other customers impatiently watched, grumbling all the time. At last the clerk had to open another box of cigars and take the tack from the box, and with it he nailed my box.

"Now, why didn't that store have extra tacks on hand?"

LAND VALUES GROW RAPIDLY

Philadelphia Property Worth Ten Times More Than It Was Acquired for in '90s.

Real estate experts are authority for saying that the value of land just outside of Philadelphia has risen as much in 20 years as the value of land within the city limits.

We shall only use one illustration. A J. Drexel gave approximately $2,500 an acre for something more than 170 acres at Overbrook. That was in the early '90s. Today the value is near $25,000.

Every dollar there has grown to at least ten.

In the central business section of Philadelphia increase in land values has also been tremendous during these two decades, but in other large portions of the town property values have not kept up the same relative speed.

From Frederick A. Riehle it is learned that anthracite lands which his ancestor had purchased for $700 were held for one century and then sold not long ago for $225,000. Resembles a war bride, eh, what?—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Pistol Shooting.

At short range an expert will keep a can moving until his gun is empty, either by shooting through it or striking the ground directly underneath it. If the nature of the ground is right this latter method makes the can jump in the air, the effect being quite spectacular. Bottles or cans thrown in the air are not particularly difficult to hit if thrown so as to make it as easy as possible for the shooter, and almost any fair shot can put two bullets through an old hat thrown in the air before it reaches the ground.

In general the secret of hitting objects thrown in the air is to aim the pistol underneath them and fire as the object is falling into the line of sight. One really good at this class of work will throw an object into the air, draw his pistol from the holster with the same hand with which he threw, and hit the object before it reaches the ground. There are few who have the speed to do this, however.—Outing.

Here's to Laughter.

Here's to laughter, the sunshine of the soul, the happiness of the heart, the leaves of youth, the privilege of purity, the echo of innocence, the treasure of the humble, the wealth of the poor, the bead of the cup of pleasure, exclaims a writer in the New York Herald. It dispels dejection, banishes blues and mangles melancholy, for it's the foe of woe, the destroyer of depression, the enemy of grief; it is what makes kings envy peasants, plutocrats envy the poor, the guilty envy the innocent; it's the sheen on the silver of smiles, the ripple on the water's delight; the glint of the gold of gladness; without it humor would be dumb, wit would wither, dimples would disappear and smiles would shrivel, for it's a glow of a clean conscience, the voice of a pure soul, the birth cry of mirth the swan song of sadness.

Elusive Heirlooms.

Little Esther went to visit her aunt Harriet for the first time. When she returned she remarked that her aunt was always busy.

"What does she do, dear?" queried the mother, "to keep her so very busy?"

"Why," said the little girl, "she spends all day long in hiding her silver in fifty different places so the burglars that she is sure are coming can't find it."

"Good!" exclaimed the mother.

"And," continued Esther, "she spends all night hunting for it and gathering it into one pile in case of fire."—Youth's Companion.

Human Nature Phase.

"Human nature," says Col. Paul Grabiel, "is subject to strange frailties, and every now and then you meet a man of great natural ability who would undoubtedly make a success in life if the Lord had given him half the persistence he gave the lowly mosquito."—Atlanta Constitution.

Pleasant L[illegible] Party.

When the sociable natives of Mugumpza go out to lunch they toss dice to see who is going to be the lunch.

Optimistic Thought.

He is a strong man who can hold down his opinion.

PAINFUL END TO JOY RIDE

Unfortunate Happening Caused Driver to Think of Resigning From the Optimists' Club.

How a member of the Optimists' club got into most disagreeable company which made him feel the reverse of optimistic, is being quietly told. The optimist has an automobile and invited his best girl out for a ride. It was a most pleasant ride for a time on the roads south of city limits. A cool breeze was blowing, the auto seemed to be the only one traveling in those parts. It was dark and the optimist had plenty of opportunity to squeeze the hand of his girl and to bestow a gentle kiss now and then when the road was straight. Sometimes there would be a sharp curve, however, and then the optimist would have to devote his whole attention to the machine. On one occasion the optimist divided his attention, with dire results. His subconsciousness told him that there was a curve ahead. He guided the machine gracefully around the curve when he noticed he had passed a fence post on either side where a farm gate was ajar. Before he could put on the emergency brake there was a crash, and then a most alarming chorus of squeals. The auto had run squarely into a pigpen, and the porkers cried aloud in their alarm. The fat swine jolted and rubbed against the machine in their fright, and when the commotion was at its height an angry farmer reached the scene and wanted to know "what in the heck" the optimist was doing in his pigpen. As he silently drove back to town with a battered machine and a lightened pocketbook, a furrowed look of pessimism could have been seen on the face of the optimist if it had not been so dark.—Indianapolis News.

MANY BIRDS UNABLE TO FLY

Having No Necessity to Use Wings to Escape Enemies, Those Members Ceased to Develop.

Of the 70 kinds of birds existing in New Zealand, 30 are found nowhere else, and of this number by far the larger portion is flightless; this, no doubt, owing to the fact that for ages, ever since the sea swallowed up a continent, leaving only the islands comprising the present Dominion of New Zealand, there have been no destructive carnivora in the land, except those small ones imported recently to aid in abating the rabbit pest, and, having no enemies, the birds also had no use for wings, which ceased to develop, and as years rolled by left many species with only little nubbins for wings and absolutely without power of flight.

Centuries ago there were in existence at least three varieties of gigantic birds, two of which were as large in body as the fabled roc, the rescuer of Sinbad the sailor. These included the Hapagornis, the Dinornis or Moa and the Cnemiornis, which was a gigantic goose. The Moa became extinct some 500 years ago. It was a flightless bird, said by tradition to have been a hunter of humans, a man eater, was of varying size and extremely plentiful.

Had to Have "Atmosphere."

That actors cannot labor without atmosphere was demonstrated the other day, when a man went amidst of a hundred or more idle thespians who were holding down the curbstone on the Rialto, and said aloud: "I want to hire about 20 men on contract. If any of you men want work, follow me." Eighty-seven disengaged thespians followed the mysterious stranger to his sumptuous suite of offices on Forty-second street, according to the New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. There the mysterious stranger faced the multitude and said: "Three and a half a day for you. Will you take it?" "What kind of a show is this?" several actors demanded. "All you've got to do is to push a wheelbarrow across a plank eight hours a day and get three-fifty." And then they all walked away, muttering grievously and wondering where, as artists, they were at. The mysterious stranger was a building contractor. And because he could not get wheelbarrow men and sand shovelers he was compelled to stop work on a skyscraper.

Beware Deadly Nightshade Berries.

The berries of the deadly nightshade (atropa belladonna), now ripe, are such a tempting fruit for children that they and their parents ought to know the plant and the terrible danger of eating its berries. These are the source from which the poisons atropine and belladonna are made.

The deadly nightshade grows from three to five feet high on strong, branched, purple-colored stems. Its pointed, oval leaves vary in size and stand in pairs on short foot stalks. The flowers are purple, pendent and bell-shaped. These appear in June and July, and give place to shining black berries in August and September.

This poisonous herb is of the same family as the tomato and potato.
